FALLS ON EVIL DAYSOnce Novelist's Home; Now Carrying Fish Cargoes.

Special to The Washington Herald.
San Francisco, Sept. 9.—The "Silver Ship" has come upon evil days. Once a rich man's expensive toy, later the yacht that carried Robert Louis Stevenson to his last home at Vailima, in the South Seas, now, with her wings clipped and an ill-smelling fish engine doing the work her sails once did, the schooner Casco is employed in the North Pacific Ocean bringing home cargoes of fish.

The Silver Ship, the picturesque nickname given the schooner by the natives of Fakarua, when Stevenson sailed to their country, served some years as the private yacht of a San Francisco millionaire. In 1888 Stevenson invested all of his money, $16,000, in the charter of the Casco, with the intention of spending a few months cruising in the South Seas and writing a book of travels.

After Stevenson's death the Casco joined the notorious seal-poaching fleet that used to sail, the early '90s, out of Victoria, British Columbia. Her wonderful speed under sail many times served in good stead at this hazardous game.

When pelagic sealing finally ended by joint treaty between Great Britain, Japan and the United States, the Casco lay idle until four years ago, when she was bought cheap, to be turned into a fisherman.

The high topmasts were cut down, a gas engine was installed and only fragments of the white and gold flaging in her cabin tell of the days of her glory.

Some of the most fascinating bits in Stevenson's letters were written from aboard this yacht.

SINGLE TAXERS LAUD
MEMORY OF GEORGERepresentative Keating Makes Principal
Talk at District Celebration.

Representative Edward Keating, of Colorado, told of his conversion to single tax ideas and eulogized Henry George and his teachings at a meeting held last night at the tent of the Fourth Presbyterian Church at Thirtieth and Fairmont streets northwest.

"If you make our country worth fighting for, it will never be conquered and no nation which has justified its existence has ever ceased to exist," said Mr. Keating. "Place the country in the hands of those who occupy it and work for it, and we will never cease to grow. The men who own the land determine the color of the flag that flies over it."

Benjamin F. Landis gave a short history of the single tax movement.

Arthur Powell Davis, of the Reclamation Service, discussed the philosophy of George and his division of mankind into three classes, the laborers, beggars and thieves.

H. Martin Williams, reading clerk of the House of Representatives, told of the growth of the movement. Sixteen members of the House in the last Congress were strong believers in the plan, he said.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Women's Single Tax Club of the District of Columbia.

NO BIDDERS ATTEND
CAMP AUCTION SALE

There was an auction sale at Camp Ordway yesterday afternoon. The only reason why it was not successful was that there were no buyers.

Capt. Will H. Chase, of the Supply Company, was given orders to sell the condemned tents and other military material. He wrote to the junk dealers of the city, stating that he would receive bids yesterday afternoon. But there was no response.

He had for sale thirty conical tents, costing originally $30; several field ranges, a large number of rubber ponches and other odds and ends of equipment.

"If the canoeist wants to get a tent cheap, here is his chance," said Capt. Chase. And he has promised to give the junkmen a chance to bid with the junkmen at a second auction sale to be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

REED NAMED HEAD OF NUT GROWERS' LEAGUE

After two days of sessions and trips, members of the Northern Nut Growers' Association are now on their way home.

At the final session in the New National Museum yesterday, New York was chosen as the next meeting place. William C. Reed, of Vincennes, Ind., was elected president for the coming year.

The nut farm of Thomas H. Littlepage, Washington lawyer, near Bowie, Md., was visited yesterday afternoon by the society. A nut collection of the Department of Agriculture, made by C. A. Reed, was viewed in the morning.

day, El Steen, Bernard Callahan, William Barnett, Daniel Hart, Thomas Fitzgerald, James Kehoe, O. Le Beau, A. Reier, Joseph Haley, James J. Connors, Edward Ryan, J. Harrington, A. Heas, William H. McCauley, and C. M. McCarthy.
